

Link to my High5test report :

<https://test.high5test.com/test/G9GNFEQUAC6Z>

The test states that my strengths are

1. Believer
  2. Time-keeper
  3. Empathizer
  4. Deliverer
  5. Storyteller
-
- Some of my strengths are essential for me to be a part of a high performing team. It is more than just statistical thinking or technical acumen.
  - Profound communication skills is vital for a data scientist to contextualise and translate a problem and its solution using attentive listening and interesting storytelling.
  - An optimistic approach, believing in your team and being able to empathize with them is an important part of effective leadership and emotional intelligence.
  - A good team member and leader not only delivers on time but also is confident and accountable for his/her actions.
  - I am a very ambitious perfectionist and I believe that is my strength. I focus on understanding the crux of the problem and solving it.
  - I am a people person and I am confident that my communication and collaboration skills will equip me to work dynamically in a team.